This course will explore various issues and themes concerning the prehistory and early history of the Caribbean Region. We are defining the Caribbean Region generously to include the lands surrounding the Caribbean Sea, the islands of the Caribbean, the lands bordering the Gulf of Mexico, and the Bahamas. Much of what we know of the region is currently being re-evaluated given new recoveries and analysis.

The course will be conducted as a seminar and students will have the opportunity to participate in defining weekly topics as well as participate in the discussions. Each student will be expected to: 1) complete required readings, 2) participate fully in class discussions, 3) on a rotating basis present and lead discussion on a chapter of the text or other assigned readings, 4) present a summary of their paper topic and, 5) write an original research paper.

Required Text:

Island Shores, Distant Pasts: Archaeological and Biological Approaches to the Pre-Columbian Settlement of the Caribbean. Scott M. Fitzpatrick and Ann H. Ross eds. University of Press of Florida: Gainesville, 2010.

Grading will be as follows:

Research paper 35%
Class participation 15%
Presentation 30%
Paper Summary 20%

Grade Scale:

A+	96.5 – 100%	C+	71.5 – 76.4%
A	89.5 – 96.4%	C	64.5 – 71.4%
A-	86.5 – 89.4%	C-	59.5 – 64.4%
B+	83.5 – 86.4%	D+	54.5 – 59.4%
B	79.5 – 83.4%	D	49.5 – 54.5%
B-	76.5 – 79.4%	F	<49.5%

A passing grade on any particular component of the course is not essential if the student is to pass the course as a whole.

Assembly Point for ES is ICT Food Court. Alternate Assembly point is the Social Science food Court.

Re: Posting of Grades and Picking-up of Assignments

All assignments will be handled on Blackboard or handed out in class.

Their own grades will be available to each student on Blackboard by password access.

Grades will not be available at Archaeology's main office.

Writing Across the Curriculum

Writing skills are not exclusive to English courses and, in fact, should cross all disciplines. The University supports the belief that throughout their University careers, students should be taught how to write well so that when they graduate their writing abilities will be far above the minimal standards required at entrance. Consistent with this belief, students are expected to do a substantial amount of writing in their University courses and, where appropriate, instructors can and may use writing and the grading thereof as a factor in the evaluation of student work. The services provided by the Writing Centre in the Effective Writing Office can be utilized by all undergraduate and graduate students who feel they require further assistance.

Academic Accommodation Policy

The purpose of academic accommodation is to provide students with documented disabilities equal opportunity to master the essentials of a post-secondary education. Students with disabilities at the University of Calgary have met all admission requirements but may have done so with the use of accommodations. Similarly, they are expected to meet all academic and non-academic requirements. Adaptive technology and other academic accommodations do not relieve students of their responsibility to develop the essential skills and abilities expected of all students.

Please refer to the following web link for detailed information:

<http://www.ucalgary.ca/drc/node/71>

Disability Resource Centre Accommodations

It is the responsibility of the student to request academic accommodations. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre, please contact their office at (403)220-8237.

Students who have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre are not eligible for formal academic accommodation. Students are also required to discuss their needs with the instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of the course.

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act

The University of Calgary is committed to protecting the privacy of individuals who work and study at the University or who otherwise interact with the University in accordance with the standards set out in the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.

Academic Misconduct

Academic dishonesty is an unacceptable activity at the University of Calgary and students are strongly advised to read the Student Misconduct section of the University Calendar. Quite often, students are unaware of what constitutes academic dishonesty or plagiarism. The most common are:

- 1) Presenting another student's work as your own
- 2) Presenting an author's work or ideas as you own without proper referencing
- 3) Using work completed for another course

This activity will not be tolerated and students conducting themselves in this manner will be dealt with according to the procedures outlined in the University Calendar.

For detailed information on what constitutes academic misconduct, please refer to the following link:

<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-2-1.html>

Plagiarism

Plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work as if it were the student's own work when it is not. Any ideas or materials taken from another source written, electronic, or oral must be fully and formally acknowledged. Plagiarism includes but is not limited to:

- (a) The work submitted or presented was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one submitting or presenting the work (this includes having another impersonate the student or otherwise substituting the work of another for one's own in an examination or test),
- (b) Parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author,
- (c) The whole work (e.g., an essay) is copied from another source, and/or,
- (d) A student submits or presents work in one course which has also been submitted in another course (although it may be completely original with that student) without the knowledge of or prior agreement of the instructor involved.

While it is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted. Plagiarism is an extremely serious academic offence. It is recognized that clause (d) does not prevent a graduate student incorporating work previously done by him or her in a thesis or dissertation.
